TWIC Implementation Updates

The United States Coast Guard has released a copy of the receipt issued by the TSA Enrollment Center for lost, stolen, or damaged TWIC cards. Attached, you will find an example of a paper copy one would receive if he/she reported a card lost, stolen, or damaged from an Enrollment Center. This information is intended to assist Facility Security Officers/ Vessel Security Officers who wish to utilize the lost, damaged, stolen provisions found in 33 CFR 105.255(c)(II).

Additionally, some field units and industry representatives have reported coming into contact with cards labeled as TWIC "Prototype" or "Technology Evaluation." These versions of TWIC cards were utilized at various times by TSA from 2003 to 2006 to test the concept of what would eventually become the TWIC now being issued. These Prototype and Technology Evaluation cards were issued without security threat assessments and are NOT acceptable in order to gain unescorted access to MTSA regulated vessels and facilities. To ensure both Coast Guard field units and the maritime industry are aware of the physical characteristics of these cards, TSA has provided a training document which has been posted on the secure (password protected) side of HOMEPORTR under Missions-Maritime Security-TWIC-General Information-TWIC Security Features labeled "TWIC Technology Evaluations and Prototype Cards." The training document is viewable by Coast Guard personnel, Company Security Officers, Vessel Security Officers, and Facility Security Officers.
