

Firefox browser users: if you do NOT see the Twitter box with tweets and images, Firefox probably has "Tracking Protection ON," (which also blocks the Twitter box). Look at the URL address box:

If you see a shield (to the left of the green lock icon) it means that Firefox is blocking tracking.

Click on the shield. The menu box appears. Then click "Disable for this Site."

The shield will now have a line across it, which means tracking is OFF. The Twitter box should appear.
